Tar sands should not be permitted into South Portland, because there is no equipment to clean-up a tar sands spill. Even if the equipment did exist, it would take too long for it to get to the spill site to prevent any environmental and ecological damage. Ask the pipeline operators and Exxon, what is your clean-up equipment?

Members of the public and interested parties,

At last night's Draft Ordinance Committee (DOC) meeting, the Committee made changes to Part 1 of its draft recommendations primarily to address certain issues that had been discussed at the Committee's May 29 meeting or previous meetings. The revised version of Part 1 of the draft recommendations is attached, with all changes identified.

The Committee welcomes written comments on this version or the previous version (posted on the DOC website) during the current written comment period that ends on June 13 at 5 pm ET. The Committee feels it is important to keep the public and interested parties informed of its progress in a timely manner so that written comments on these revisions can be submitted during this comment period.

The Committee is scheduled to meet twice after the close of the written comment period, on June 18 at 6 pm (location TBD) and on June 19 at 6 pm (City Hall Council Chambers), if the second meeting is needed for the Committee to complete its work.

Also attached is a pdf of the slide presentation from last night.

Both of the attached documents are posted on the DOC Draft Recommendations Page: http://www.southportland.org/departments/city-clerk/draft_ordinance_committee/draft-recommendations/
